RENOVATIONS & UPDATES

Holmes Community College is proud of the renovations and updates the college has undergone during the 2022-23 school year.

- 1 Holmes purchased a 52-foot 10-wheeler trailer equipped with eight state-of-the-art welding stations. This trailer will function as a stand-alone training center. It will allow an advanced selection of training as the trailer also includes a plasma cutter, rod oven, angle grinder and bench grinder plus the oxygen cutting and welding area. The mobile training facility is powered by a 90 KW generator.

Holmes is excited about the possibility of bringing the Welding & Cutting Technology program to surrounding industries and middle college sites in their district. Holmes has the ability to offer an education at any industry or middle college location in their district which is a game changer for students. Schools that are motivated as a middle college site can offer this program to their students. Prospective students would have the potential of earning a high school diploma and an AAS in Welding & Cutting Technology upon graduation.

- 2 With the opening of the 1100-acre Bulldog Ranch off I-65 in Goodman, students and alumni will have an opportunity to host their events on the picturesque nation's largest, featuring a 100-acre lake. Whether about the place of a wedding venue or a site for corporate events, Holmes will be able to assist their clients with an entertaining space, a full kitchen, seating and more. Coming soon Bulldog Ranch will be a place for students to enjoy their favorite campers or RVs. The college plans to develop eight pull-through camping spaces with plenty of room to spread out and the opportunity to still have water, sewer and electrical hook-ups. This is just one of the many projects Holmes was awarded the title of Best Alumni Network by Intelligent.com. Bulldog Ranch also serves as the site for the Holmes Football, Jumanan program and agricultural activities.

- 3 Another addition during the 2022-23 school year included a new courtyard area on the Ridgeland Campus. This new courtyard area will become a new gathering spot for the Ridgeland students.

- 4 On the Goodman Campus, the Math & Science Building, the Hotel Dorm and Granada Dorm were all renovated. Two Freshman dormitory buses were added to the Goodman Campus as well.

- 5 On the Granada Campus, a new cedar pavilion was constructed. Students, faculty and staff are able to enjoy the area for hanging out, having a meal, reading and working on school work.

During the 2022-23 school year, many of Holmes' athletic facilities received long overdue upgrades. These improvements will last for decades, better serving our current athletes and helping to recruit future Bulldogs. Even though some facilities suffered damage in last year's tornado, progress was not halted.

The softball field was the first to be refert at Holmes, allowing them to play some spring games on the field. The pressbox was built prior to the 2022 season. New LED lights with special features were installed in the 2022 season along with a new sound system.

Frank Branch Field, where the Bulldogs play football, was converted from a grass field to turf just before the last ten home games of the 2022 season. New LED lights with special features add to the crowd experience. Upgrades were also made to the concession stand by adding new windows and doors.

Charlie Dahvid Field, where the Bulldogs play baseball, has also been turfed. New LED lights are being installed on the field, and a new video scoreboard is being added behind left field. The scoreboard will include a new sound system to improve the fan experience.

New HVAC systems and a roof were added to the Dr. A. A. Patrick Field House during the fall semester to keep the football team nice and cool after practices and games. The tennis courts suffered tornado damage, but they have also been revitalized. New fencing has been installed and Holmes-branded windscreens will arrive soon.

New to the Cambridge Campus is a 2,284-square-foot athletic training facility located in the former Hamlenmore shop, near the baseball and softball fields. Holmes began training in the fully-renovated facility in the fall of 2022. Some of the features of the training facility include turfed half-sprinkling cages and a 7,500-square-foot state-of-the-art weights room that will be used by all Holmes athletes. This unbelievable building transformation improves the overall appearance of the campus.

The exterior of Frank Branch Coliseum also received. Eliminated signage that shines brightly in windows late in basketball games at night. Construction has begun on the 6,600-square-foot soccer field house on the Ridgeland Campus, which houses both the men's and women's soccer teams.

Also receiving a long-overdue face lift is the facade of the baseball field house. Plans are underway to add a fresh coat of paint to the building and signage that will identify the property as Holmes Baseball from Highway 1.

The softball field was the first to be refert at Holmes.

Bulldogs baseball also got new LED lights and a new video scoreboard.

Construction has begun on the soccer field house on the Ridgeland Campus.

The new athletic training facility has been approved. It has to be seen in person to be fully appreciated.

The Frank Branch Coliseum is being refert with new LED lights with special features.

Dean of Academic Programs Dr. Tonya Lawrence was named the Pau and McGee Shelton Award recipient. With this award, a $500 scholarship is given each December to an employee who demonstrates outstanding leadership, job performance and service as well as unselfish dedication to students, staff and the college.

Dr. Lawrence began her career at Holmes in 2005 as a biological sciences instructor. She transferred to the director of evening programs in 2013 and in 2014 she was named academic dean of the Booneville Campus where she also served as Phi Theta Kappa advisor.

"Throughout my years at Holmes, I've been blessed to work with such a diverse group of people. Dr. Lawrence said, "have reflected many times on my career here and it has amazed me at how many people have invested time and energy to develop me into a leader.

Dr. Lawrence said, "I would not be where I am today without God's plan and the people he placed in my life who have taught me so many things."

In 2014, Dr. Lawrence transferred to the Ridgeland Campus where she is today. In 2019, when she was named the dean of academic programs, she was able to expand her role to work in a district capacity with division chairs. Specifically, she was able to support their departmental goals and initiatives as well as assist with reflection on and improvements to the classroom experiences in their respective divisions.

Previously, she obtained a master's from The University of Southern Mississippi and an associate degree from Jones County Junior College. Some of Dr. Lawrence's career achievements include Moody Institute Fellow (2022), the Distinguished Administrator Award from Phi Theta Kappa (2018), Horizon Award (2013) and Lampighter Award (2007).

Dr. Mackey is the 2024 American Cancer Society National Ribbon Heroine. This honor recognizes a survivor who has taken an active volunteer and supporter of breast cancer research.

Dr. Mackey has been an annual participant in the Making Strides Against Breast Cancer event for which she has been recognized as a Pacesetter for her fundraising efforts. This year, Dr. Mackey shared her survivor speech at the Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Kickoff.

"I am honored and humbled to be recognized as an honoree. Dr. Mackey said, "My story is similar to others that have been diagnosed with this awful disease, but the ability to share my story of faith, hope, and love brings me comfort. This was my first time talking publicly about my experience with the rollercoaster word that sends chills, anxiety, anger, grief, tears, and a range of emotions throughout a person and their family. It was no easy feat, but the journey of survivorship reminds me that we are surviving every day. I am thankful to the American Cancer Society for the recognition."

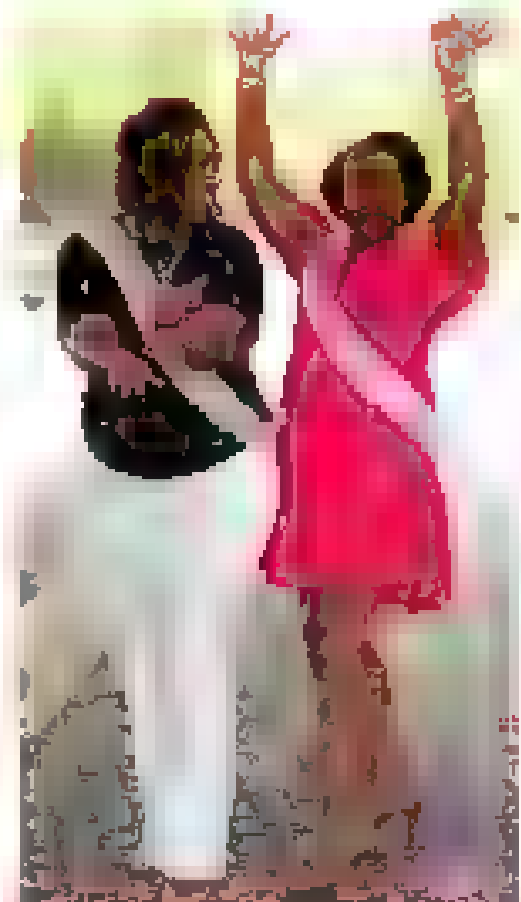

Dr. Mackey holds a Doctor of Philosophy in Community College Leadership, a master's in secondary mathematics education and a bachelor's in mathematics from Mississippi State University. She formerly served as vice president for instruction at East Central Community College for 10 years and has been an adjunct mathematics instructor for Jackson State University since 2014. Before East Central, she worked for East Mississippi Community College for 2 years. Dr. Mackey is also a PhD graduate of the Mississippi Community College Leadership Academy.

"I urge everyone to stay abreast of their health and wellness," Dr. Mackey said. "Eat right and stay active. If you notice any changes to your body, seek the advice of a healthcare expert and get screened. Too often we prioritize so many things in life over our health when it should be a top priority. If you are not well, you can't do those other things. In the event that you are diagnosed with this awful disease, know that the American Cancer Society is there to help. They have a host of resources and support for survivors, thrivers, and their caregivers. Warn everyone to stand up and support their efforts. I am standing on the shoulders of those survivors before me and must strengthen and broaden my shoulders for those diagnosed after me by being an advocate and supporter."

Dr. Mackey is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated, the MSU Department of Educational Leadership Advisory Board and the National Academic Advising Association. She and her husband, Dr. Shawn Mackey, reside in Madison and have three children: Christopher, Shawn Jr., and Matthew.

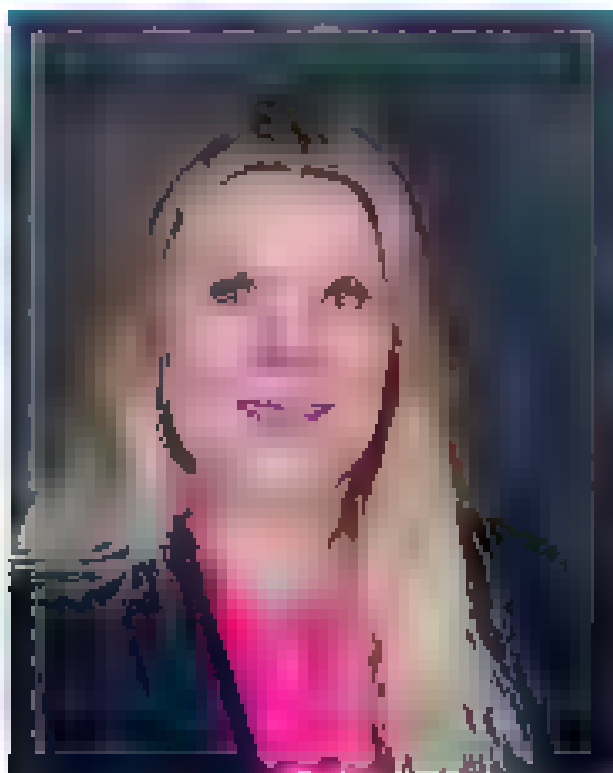

"Dr. Mackey is one of our incredible survivors who continues to lead this journey every day for others who are in the fight," said American Cancer Society Executive Director Jennifer Bennett. "She gives so much hope to others with her story of perseverance and resilience. Dr. Mackey is one of the reasons why we continue to do what we do every day, fight for the day that nobody will hear the words you have cancer."

GOODMAN CAMPUS ADDS ADN PROGRAM

For several years, the MS has been battling a nursing shortage. To help combat this, Holmes saw the need and agreed to start a new Associate Degree Nursing program on the Goodman Campus starting the first class in January.

All across the United States, hospitals and clinic offices are suffering from a shortage of nurses. Christal at Health Science Programs (Cinge) Meriwether said, "Whether it be due to Covid or just aging out of the field, the nursing shortage has made national headlines. We decided to add a cohort in Goodman because it will allow opportunities for students in a rural area that may not have the capabilities to drive long distances to complete a healthcare program. We also were excited to offer the program to those who needed housing on the Goodman campus.

The 30-member first class has many facets. We have a full gamut of students from traditional to non-traditional. Meriwether said. Several are commuting students and several are dorm residents. We are excited that they have chosen Holmes to broaden their knowledge, and we look forward to growing our Associate Degree Nursing Program in this area. The qualifications for entry will be obtained by finishing the program at our former campus.

Goodman ADN instructors are Kaitlyn Gilman and Anna Britton. Christa Innarillo is ADN in the HealthCare Assistant Program in Goodman and has experience in surgical and medical surgical nursing. Britton has done clinical adjunct for Holmes' Practical Nursing and our Associate Degree Nursing Programs for several semesters.

Kaitlyn brings a youthfulness and vigor to the program that welcomes students to the field of nursing. Meriwether said. Anna is a seasoned LP nurse, and she brings great experiences and expertise to the classroom. We are excited to have the both of them and look forward to what all they will accomplish with this newly established cohort.

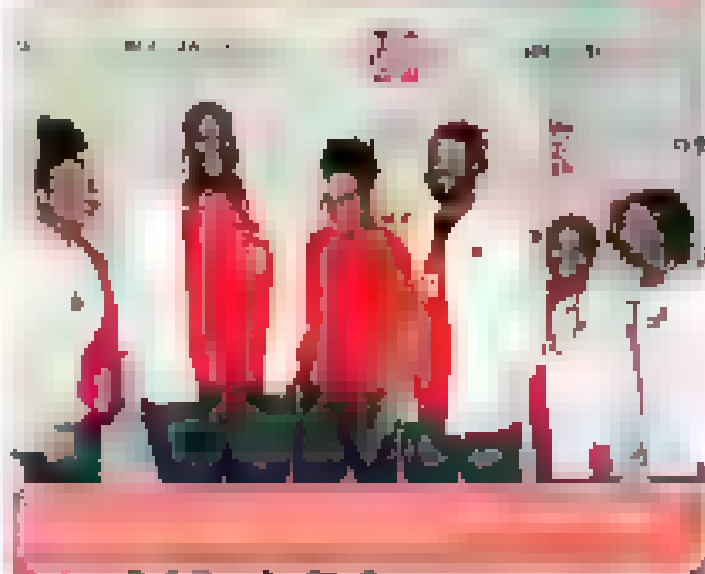

The ADN program utilizes classrooms in the newly remodeled Philips Building on the Goodman Campus and in the Thayer Vocational-Technical Building.

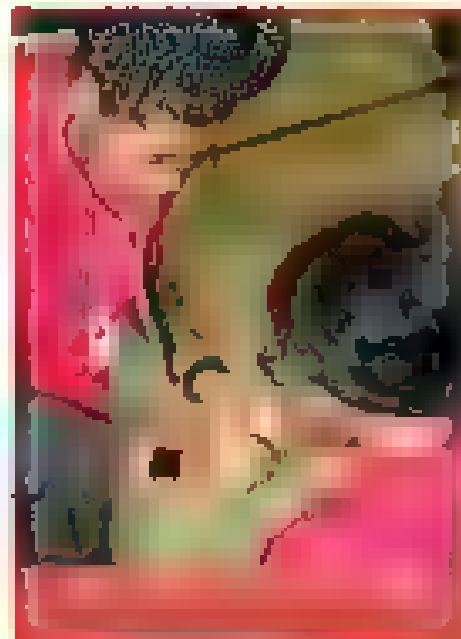

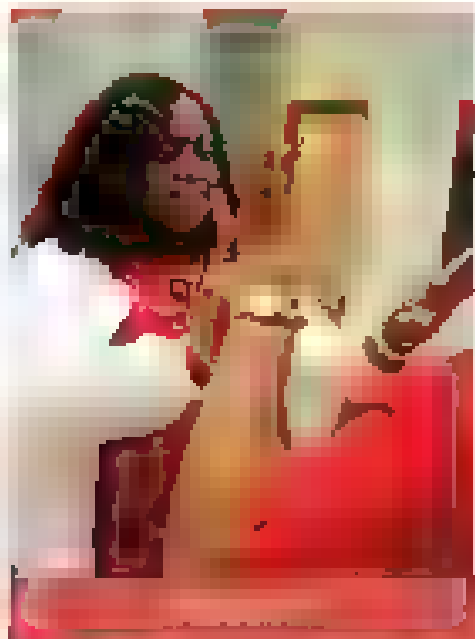

We would thank those a maintenance, housekeeping, TE Dr. Harley Dr. Whittington enough for the hardy efforts they have put into the opening of the new classrooms. Meriwether said. With gratitude for Dr. Aliza Austin and Patty Jones who have also worked diligently to get the Goodman program up and running.

The application cycle will occur annually from Aug. 1 Sept. 5. The Goodman cohort begins in January each year, and the first cohort is set for graduation in Dec. 2024.

They have four semesters of curriculum, and they are offered an externship opportunity that occurs in the summer before graduation. Meriwether said. Local hospitals, working through the Mississippi Hospital Association, provide learning opportunities for students to obtain great experience in the field. Nursing, and they get paid for this opportunity as well. They work hand in hand with a registered nurse and they gain wonderful experiences.

I sincerely thank Holmes for the opportunity to grow our programs where we feel that Health Science Programs are in high demand across the region, the state, and the U.S. as a whole. I am thankful to work at such a place that encourages growth. It is very exciting to see the numbers improve and to be able to see programs collaborating with each other to reach the goals of a fast-moving industry.

CLUBS & ORGANIZATIONS

CLUBS

There are all kinds of ways for Holmes students to get involved on campus! From music organizations to Christian groups, leadership organizations to student organizations, there is something for everyone! Many of Holmes programs have their own special groups as well, such as nursing organizations and ExDeUSA for Israel-tech students.

1. "Good to Know"

The Grenada Campus Phi Theta Kappa Chapter worked on a project that collaborated with their local campus police. With the help of the marketing department, they created a handbook with "Good to Know" information regarding parking on campus and other campus rules and regulations. Chief Gornet Hartley was very grateful for the PTK's effort to get this information out to the students.

2. Bring Home the Gold!

Holmes Phi Theta Kappa members (left to right) Chase Langford from the Ocean Springs campus, Karlee Luke from the Grenada Campus and Charlotte Lamer from the Ridgeland Campus were all named Triad of the Golden Key Scholars at PTK MS&A Region held at Mississippi State University.

3. New Beginnings

To help combat the nursing shortage in the U.S., Holmes started a new Associate Degree Nursing program on the Goodman Campus starting the first class in January of 2023. The first class had 30 members.

BULLDOG CHEER

It was another wonder at work for the Holmes Community College Bulldog cheerleading team. They started the school year strong after competing successfully at the National Cheerleaders Association (NCA) College Spirit Camp in July.

"What an amazing year to live, learn with lots of pep and smiling things," said their coach, Coach Jones. The Holmes Cheerleaders were able to attend NCA College Spirit Camp at the University of Alabama. They had the best time and came home with all trophies, ribbons and placement in Time-Out routine and Jumps.

Football season was also an exciting time as all the College Football facilities were brought into action and updates.

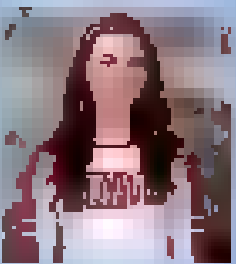

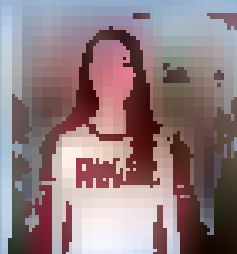

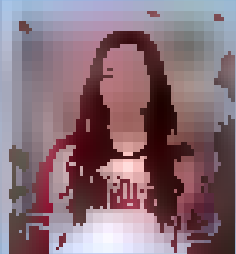

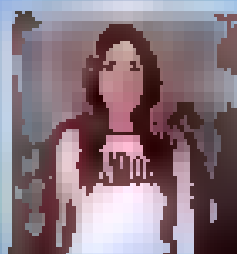

As football season kicked into high gear, they were on the road with the camp and the marketing of the field at Ray Darnell Stadium was complete. Coach Jones said, "With some exciting games, fun nights and a new fan field, the good football season was one to remember. Hometown was great and in the season."

Additionally, the cheer leaders worked with Major Experience, a huge championship event in the state, providing high school students. They helped with recruitment and provided entertainment to all in attendance. The cheerleaders also also enjoyed basketball season and participating in various community service activities throughout the school year.

In August, we had the introduction with the basketball team, Coach Jones said, "What a wonderful group of student-athletes. They have earned Holmes Community College well!"

LADY BULLDOG SOCCER

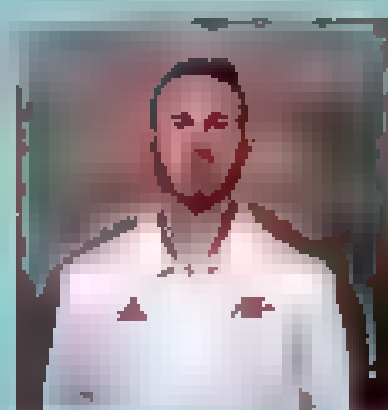

The Holmes Community College Lady Bulldogs have an exciting year. They captured the NAACF and NJCAA Region 25 Championships and finished as NJCAA National Champions runner-up. Holmes finished #11 in the nation, played in the Top Five championship match, finished No. 7 and was the No. 2 seed in the NJCAA Tournament.

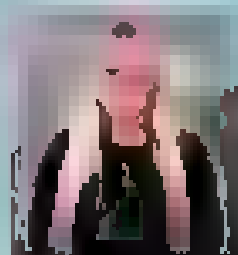

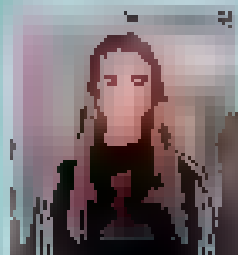

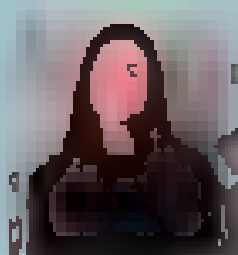

Following the championship match, Jenya Mason of Brandon and Taylor Rahmet of Clinton were named to the 2021 Team Manager Team. In addition to the Lady Bulldog, two exceptional current and past players were named to the All NAACF Team and three to the NJCAA All Region Team.

Defender Layton of First South, Arkansas, forward Jhana of Madison and Kylee Brasher of Ohio Branch were named First Team All NAACF and also were named to the All Region Team. Jenna Gaylor of Madison was named Second Team All NAACF while Rebecca, Kaitlin Johnson of Dakota and Aubrey Roberts of Tennessee were named honorable mentions. All NAACF honors was named NJCAA First Team Women's Soccer Division II All American as well.

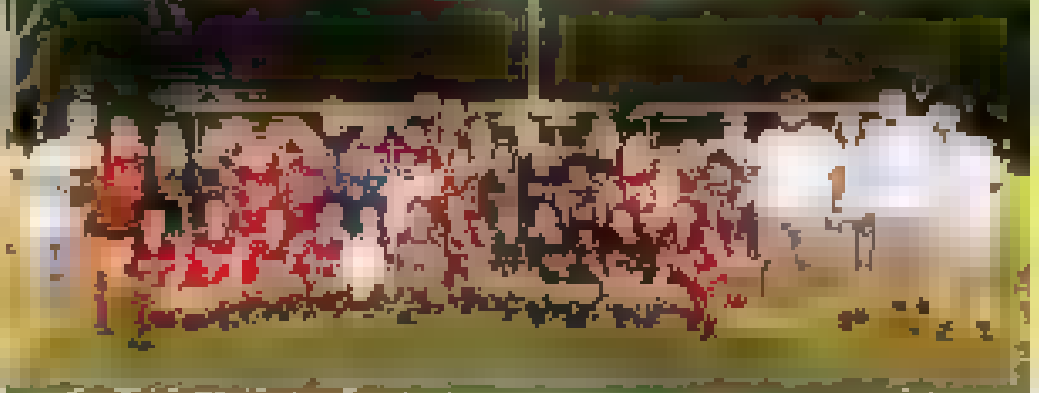

Other awards during the 2022 season included selection as National Coaching Staff of the Year by United Soccer Teachers and selection as All South Region Coaching Staff of the Year. Additionally, goalkeeper Emily Murphy of Tennessee was named the NAACF Goalkeeper of the Week and forward Taylor M. Kinner of Florida was named the NAACF Offensive Player of the Week after she played in the Region 25 "Gold South District" Tournament at Jarama College. Kinner in the semester, sophomore Dorian Waskings of Virginia Tech Athletics, was named the NAACF Defensive Player of the Week for her play vs. Southwestern.

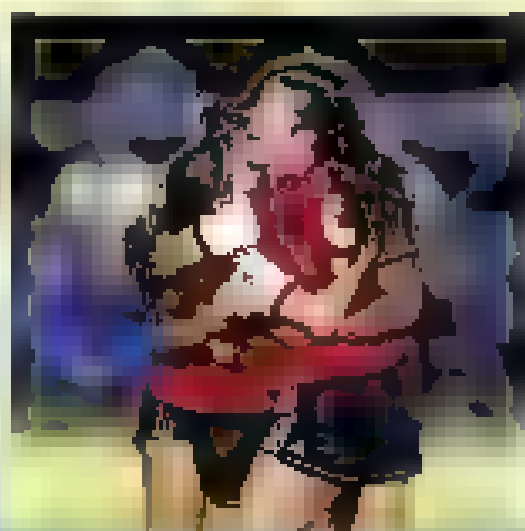

"This team was absolutely incredible group that really created our own identity," said Coach Wendy Wolfe. "They loved to lose and pushed themselves to always be there and they in fact they were. Our captain and sophomores did a wonderful job guiding us from day one and the majority of the group pushing us over the top in every close game. As a staff proud of this group's identity and very excited to see what our sophomores can do in the future. Their success here was only the beginning for them and I am blessed to have been a part of this team."

RECORD...IT WAS A GREAT YEAR!

The above is an example of a simple sentence. The subject is "The cat" and the predicate is "sat on the rug". The subject is a noun phrase and the predicate is a verb phrase. The sentence is a statement of fact.

On Aug. 4, a YouTube account called Access Therapy posted a video. The host, Julian Shapiro-Barnum, interviewed a kid about his favorite food at the fall fair. Corn fans across the internet fell in love with the child's enthusiasm and a meme was born.

TRENDING IN FASHION

It looks like the fashion trends of the 90's and early 2000's are making a strong comeback.

The king of sandwiches over the last few decades has been none other than the fast-food burger joint with the company's Whopper side by side. In addition, during the 90s and early 2000s, the king of sandwiches was the Super Bowl.

IN MEMORY OF BRIAN SIMMONS

Brian Simmons

Holmes Community College faculty and staff members were heartbroken at the passing of Brian Simmons, one of the groundskeeping employees on the Goodman Campus, on Aug. 11.

Simmons, 35 years old at the time of his passing, was a native of Holmes County and had just been recognized for 10 years of service with the Holmes family. He was a graduate of Wilkams-Sullivan High School.

The visitation was held on Friday, Aug. 12 at the Affordable Funeral Home of Durant. The funeral service followed the next day, also at the Affordable Funeral Home Chapel with the burial immediately following at New Banyon Cemetery.

Holmes Community College mourns the loss of one of our most dedicated employees, Brian Simmons," said Holmes President Dr. Jim Halley. "Brian faithfully served our students and fellow employees working in the landscaping department in Goodman. He was always quick to volunteer to do whatever was needed to ensure the campus looked its best. He will be greatly missed."

Goodman Campus engineering technology instructor Wt. Alexander also had kind words to share about Simmons.

"Simmons always had a smile on his face," Alexander said. "Whenever I needed assistance with the Challenge Course or Disc Golf Course, I could always count on him to be the first to show up and help. He had a contagious positive attitude that always made working with him fun. He will be greatly missed by us all."

AN APPRECIATION OF WILLIE CHAMBERS

"Willie was one of the first guys I met when I was hired on with Holmes," said engineering instructor Will Alexander. "He would always pick with me in passing and say 'What's up Willie 2?'" On occasion we would bump into each other at the Campus Mart and take turns buying each other a small order of grizzards or some summer sausage and crackers. This one time when I knew it was outright my turn to buy, he jumped up in line and bought us both a large order and when I asked what the occasion was, he smiled and said "It's a good day to be alive Willie 2!" He will be greatly missed by us all.

Services for Chambers were arranged by Porter and Sons Funeral Home in Lexington. They were held at Frank Branch Coliseum on the Holmes Community College Goodman Campus on Saturday, Feb. 26.

"As far as coworkers go, we got along great," said Moe McPhail. "Pig always had this twinkle in his eye when you saw that you know he was up to something. He saw me sharpening a knife one day, asked me to sharpen his and was really proud of it when I was done. I showed him how to sharpen his, but he preferred I did it. Now, I've got quite a few asking me to sharpen theirs. Hey do mine like Pig's. He was one of the good guys. It always hurts to lose such a great person. I dare say he was one of the best tractor drivers Holmes Community College ever had."

COLOPHON

The 2023 edition and 94th volume of Horizons is a publication of the Holmes Community College Communications Department and students on the Horizons yearbook staff. The marketing department contributes to Horizons, as well.

Jostens, founded in 1897, is the publisher of Horizons. Jostens is an American manufacturer of memorabilia primarily known for its production of yearbooks and class rings for high schools and colleges as well as championship rings for sports. Without their help, we would not be able to provide you with a quality publication each year.

N-Focus Photography took the faculty, staff and student headshots. This is a major component of the book, and we are proud of the work they do. Without the help of our wonderful Holmes family, we would not be able to produce a yearbook of this caliber. We would also like to show our gratitude to the Holmes Community College Board of Trustees for allowing us the opportunity to produce this book on behalf of the college, its faculty staff and students.
